If the rice has been unsealed for long, rice can be dry and stale. In this case, you should pour the half of water more. It’s tastier.

If possible, do not use the preset time function when rice is too dry and pour the half of water more. If you cook over the 10 hours or dried rice, rice can be crisp or half cooked.
Even worse condition, rice can be cooked different tastes each level.

Cautions for Keeping Warm

It will be hard to open the lid during warming, or right after it has finished cooking. So push the pressure weight to the side and allow the steam to release.
Make sure the handle is in the “Lock” position during warming or reheating.

It would be better to warm the rice for less than 12 hours because of odors and color change. The cooked rice, which cooked by pressure cooker, is more prone to changing color than the rice cooked by general cooker.
After 24 hours of heat preservation, the lamp of heat preservation time lapse blinks, indicating that long time has passed in heat preservation condition.
If you have cooked rice with a separate electric heating appliance or fire with gas, put the cooked rice in the pot and start Keep Warm mode according to the warming instruction.

It is recommended to evenly stir the cooked rice after cooking.
The rice taste is improved. (For a small quantity of rice, pile up the rice on the center area of the inner pot to keep warm)

The mixed and brown rice cannot be in such good condition as white rice while in warm function due to their characteristics.
During warm mode, the rice can rise and turn white. In this case, mix the rice.

Do not keep the rice spatula inside the pot while warming the rice.
When using a wooden rice spatula, it can create serious bacteria and odors.

It is recommended to evenly stir the cooked rice after cooking.
The rice taste is improved.
(For a small quantity of rice, pile up the rice on the center area of the inner pot to keep warm).

When Odors are Noticeable During the Warming Mode
